OBJECTIVE OF THE WORKSHOP

The main objective of this workshop is to introduce the fundamental concept of machine learning and an overview of machine learning algorithms and their application. The training will cover series of lectures and practical sessions in Python helping participants to obtain deep insights of machine learning. The multi-diverse applicability of these subjects in various fields is now over-established and will be revisited by a group of learned speakers from eminent institutions having long academic and professional cherishments on these subjects.

The long term vision of this workshop is to explore new research vistas on frontier and fringe areas of science and technology with help of challenging and stimulating cutting-edge chronicles and case studies on Computer Science and Information Technology. In fine, this humble endeavour would empower the students and foster a chance amongst the listeners in honing their knowledge and holistic skills on these subjects.

Programme Schedule:

Date	1 st Half(11:00am-1:00pm)			2 nd Half(2:00pm-5:00pm)
	Speaker	Affiliation	Topic	Hands-on Session
25.03.2019	Dr. Tanushyam Chattopadhyay	TCS, Kolkata	Basics of Machine Learning	Hands-on in Python
26.03.2019	Prof. Dinabandhu Bhandari	Heritage Institute of Technology, Kolkata	Regression	Hands-on in Python
27.03.2019	Prof. Rajat De	ISI, Kolkata	Neural Network	Hands-on in Python
28.03.2019	Prof. Dinabandhu Bhandari	Heritage Institute of Technology, Kolkata	Support Vector Machines	Hands-on in Python
29.03.2019	Prof. Ujjwal Bhattacharya	ISI, Kolkata	Deep Learning	Hands-on in Python

THE PARTICIPANTS ARE REQUESTED TO CARRY LAPTOP FOR THE HANDS-ON SESSION AND INSTALL PYTHON WITH VERSION 3.0 AND ABOVE

ELIGIBILITY

The workshop is open to faculty, research scholars & students of engineering colleges, research institutes and professionals from industry.
